

ACCA On-line Exam Registration

ACCA has introduced a number of new features to its online exam entry process which makes registering for exams online the quickest and simplest way for students and trainees to register for exams. Students who register for exams online can:

- * get immediate confirmation of receipt and processing of their exam entry so they don't need to worry if they've been entered for the exams
- * get immediate validation of exam entry information so any errors or misunderstandings can be sorted as soon as possible
- * go back and change the exam centre they've selected
- * change their law/tax variant and standards/stream
- * add or remove exam selections they may have previously made.

Students can make as many changes as they wish online to their exam selection at no extra cost up until the standard exam entry closing date of 15 October 2009. Students can register for exams online at myACCA.

And even if students initially submit a paper exam entry, they can go online to make changes to their exam entry up until 15 October.
